Quakes in Sicily Leave Hundreds Dead and Injured

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A shattering succession of earthquakes rumbled through the snowy and mountainous western tip of Sicily Monday. Police estimated nearly 300 persons were killed.

With many of the stricken communities still out of touch, officials feared the final death toll might go to 500 or even more. The injured were expected to exceed 1,000.

About 10,000 persons were left without homes and spent the night outdoors or under tents pitched by the Italian army. The quakes toppled houses, hospitals, medieval castles and churches in the worst disaster to hit the island since 1908. A hospital at Montevago collapsed, burying 200 persons. Police said most were killed.

Spurred by police reports of almost 300 deaths in the rubble of half a dozen towns and villages, the Italian government mounted a massive rescue and relief operation.

Trucks, cars, ships and planes laden with tents, blankets, food and medicines, made their way through freezing weather to the disaster zone. Hundreds of homeless huddled in the cold. Many built bonfires.

The stricken area, considered a stronghold of the Mafia, is formed by a triangle of the towns of Salemi, Poggioreale and Santa Margherita di Belice.

Several thousand homeless, fearing new shocks through the volcanic island—the Mediterranean's largest and most populous—fled urban areas.

Five tremors had shaken the region Sunday as it was digging out from one of the worst snowfalls of the century.

Seven more came Monday, starting at 2:34 a.m.

Britain Abandons Military Role in Asia and Mideast

LONDON (AP) — Protests by five nations forced Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government Monday to consider basing a token naval force in Singapore—even beyond a general pullout by 1971.

Wilson's weary Cabinet also pondered cancellation of an order for 50 American F111s, with most signs suggesting the billion-dollar contract for the swing-wing bombers has been axed.

In a day-long session, British ministers approved the final shape of a package of state spending cuts transforming Britain's once-proud world role and the face of its welfare state.

Wilson is due to present the new policy to the House of Commons Tuesday as his Labor government's cure-all for the nation's chronic economic ills.

At the center of the program was a basic decision to abandon Britain's military role east of Suez—meaning in practical terms quitting its Southeast Asian bases in Malaysia and Singapore and its Persian Gulf bases in Bahrain and Sharjah. This major political decision was intended in part to win the backing of rank-and-file Laborites for massive retrenchments at home, notably in the social services.

A reaction of deep dismay arose at once from five of Britain's key partners in Asia—the United States, Malaysia, Singapore, Australia and New Zealand.

President Johnson wrote privately to Wilson saying he had no wish to interfere but stressing his view that this was an ill-timed move to announce Britain's planned withdrawal from the area.

Australia, New Zealand and Malaysia voiced their alarm in public and private.

DeGaulle May Have to Dip Into Gold Hoard

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle may have to dip into his gold hoard this year because of the Johnson administration's program to redress the American balance of payments.

This is the opinion of business and diplomatic sources trying to evaluate the consequences of President Johnson's plans to bolster the dollar.

Though financial experts emphasize the difficulty of arriving at a precise calculation, they concur that restrictive American measures will increase the probability France will run a balance of payments deficit in 1968.

Weakening of the French international payments position became apparent last year. Some preliminary estimates put France's 1967 deficit at some $300 million. Here again, experts emphasize the difficulty of knowing for sure.

They say for example that money coming to Paris in the pound sterling crisis last November may have temporarily offset this deficit. Official figures will not be available until June.

The Washington measures having the greatest direct impact on France will be the embargo on American investment in Western Europe and the requirement that part of the earnings of U.S. companies operating here be repatriated.

In 1966, the last year of complete economic statistics, American companies made direct investments of about $237 million in France. They also repatriated to the United States about $140 million in earnings, amounting to a net U.S. balance of payments loss in this category of $97 million.

Nominating petitions will be circulated for him later this month, seeking to place his name on the ballot in the spring primary on April 23. He will be competing for the post presently held by William W. Allen, Assembly representative for Warren and Forest counties.

Court Approves PRR-NYC Merger; Biggest in History

NEW YORK (AP) — The Supreme Court approved Monday the nearly six-year-old proposal to merge the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads in the biggest consolidation in U.S. corporate history.

In a 7-1 decision, the court in Washington cleared the tracks for the creation by Feb. 1 of the world's largest privately owned railroad system with assets of more than $4.3 billion.

Justice Abe Fortas, speaking for the court, said the justices could find no basis for reversing approval of the merger by the Interstate Commerce Commission and a New York federal court.

The merged road, to be known as the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co., stretches halfway across the continent between New York and St. Louis and Chicago with 20,000 miles of road.

Eventual savings for the railroads have been estimated at more than $80 million annually. More than 85,000 employees are affected but the merger agreement protects them against loss of jobs.

Part of the merger agreement is that the Penn-Central will make a loan of up to $25 million to the financially ailing New Haven Railroad and pick up some of the New Haven's operating losses.

The court also approved, in its decision, ICC terms calling for the Norfolk & Western, a prosperous coal-hauling road, to take over three smaller eastern roads—the Erie-Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson and the Boston & Maine.

The three smaller roads, fearful of the economic consequences of the Penn-Central merger, had sought refuge under the Norfolk & Western corporate umbrella.

Under the merger plan, the Pennsylvania's chairman, Stuart T. Saunders, will become board chairman and chief executive officer of the Penn-Central. The Central's president, Alfred E. Perlman, will become president and chief administrative officer.

In a joint statement, Saunders and Perlman said they were "gratified" at the court decision.

Consummation of the merger will make it "possible to extend early financial aid to the New Haven and to expedite its inclusion in the Penn-Central system," they said.

The New Haven hauls 25,000 commuters from Westchester County, N.Y., and Fairfield County, Conn., daily into New York and has been bankrupt for about five years.

The decision caused a momentary spurt in the price of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads on the New York Stock Exchange but this was cut later.

Viet Cong Ambush U.S. Supply Column, Lose 24

SAIGON (AP) — Under attack by B52 Stratofortresses, the Communists switched action from the northern frontier to the central highlands Monday where they ambushed a U.S. supply column but came out the worse for it. American counterblows left 24 enemy dead while U.S. casualties were listed as 3 killed and 13 wounded.

Communist troops opened up with bazooka-type rockets and machine guns on three armored personnel carriers of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division leading a convoy of trucks on Route 14 from Kontum to Dak To and forward American outposts.

The personnel carriers were damaged lightly but none of the supply trucks was hit.

Before the Communists could get at the trucks, two American tanks moved in while Army helicopter gunships pounded the enemy positions.

To the east along the central coast two companies of South Vietnamese infantrymen pounded on a North Vietnamese force of about 400 men in the Bong Son plain and killed 76 of them while taking light casualties themselves, headquarters in Saigon reported. It said the action lasted all day Sunday.

The U.S. Command lifted the security wraps on a 28-day-long operation north of the Bong Son plain in which units of the 198th Light Infantry Brigade and the newly arrived 11th Brigade killed 234 Communist troops and seized 59 weapons. Their own losses in "Operation Muscatine" were reported as 20 men killed and 90 wounded.

The fighting in the highlands followed up renewed North Vietnamese troop movements and attacks over the weekend along the demilitarized zone where U.S. officials believe the Communists are readying a major assault after the end of the northeast monsoons in early spring.

U.S. counterattacks in the area, the dividing line of the two Vietnams, included B52 saturation bombing attacks on suspected enemy positions in the northwest quarter near Khe Sanh, hard against the Laotian border.

Romney Wants Guarantees Of Neutrality

KEENE, N.H. (AP) — Michigan's George Romney said Monday night if he becomes president he will seek guarantees of neutrality and thus peace for South Vietnam and for its troubled neighbors.

He said foreign military bases should be withdrawn from the area.

Romney accused President Johnson of permitting past opportunities for peace talks to lapse, "by design or mishandling."

"We have looked too much as if we were demanding unconditional surrender," Romney said in a long and detailed speech on the Vietnam war.

Campaigning for Republican votes in New Hampshire's presidential primary, the Michigan governor said the United States has placed too much emphasis on conventional military force and not enough on the political aspects of the struggle—or on efforts to end the fighting.

"We have appeared to shift our terms for talks which could lead to a settlement," Romney said, "and we have missed, whether by design or mishandling, possible opportunities to get negotiations started."

The Vietnam speech, prepared for an audience at Keene State College, was Romney's first major policy statement on the war since he became a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination and visited the war zone in that role.

Warren Native Named Head of Sloan Foundation

A native of Warren, Dr. Nils Y. Wessell, was elected president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation Monday. He will take office May 1 following the resignation of Everett Case on April 30.

The Foundation, established in 1934, gives scholarships and fellowships in the fields of technology, engineering and natural sciences, as well as sponsoring research programs. Its assets at the end of 1967 were approximately $326,600,000 at market value.

Wessell, who previously served as president of Tufts College for 13 years, was born in Warren, April 14, 1914, the son of the Rev. Johan Wessell and Mrs. Esther Wahlquist Wessell.

In Wessell's youth, he and his parents moved to Plainfield, N.Y., where he attended high school. He was graduated from Lafayette in 1934 and obtained his master's degree from Brown University in 1935. Three years later he received his doctorate in psychology from the University of Rochester.

He is presently president of the Institute of Educational Development, a non-profit educational research organization in New York City. Among his activities, Dr. Wessell has served as chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston and is a trustee of the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library.

Frame Will Be Candidate For Re-election to Seat

State Senator Richard C. Frame has announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for re-election to the 25th Senatorial District seat. The five-county district consists of Elk, Forest, McKean, Warren and Venango.

Frame, a Franklin attorney, was first elected to the State Senate in 1962 and re-elected in 1966, capturing 60 per cent of the total vote.

Normally the 1966 election would have provided a four-year senatorial term. However, under the Supreme Court's reapportionment decision, Frame received a two-year term and so must run again this year.

Record Budget

Approved

JAMESTOWN, N.Y.—Jamestown's City Council last night passed an $11.2 million budget, the highest in the city's history. The new budget which will result in a tax increase of 14.87 per cent, $1,000 assessed valuation met with the council approval in a 12 to 0 vote. The budget adopted was that recommended by Mayor Charles B. Magnuson.

The $11,228,563 budget compares with a $9.5 million budget for 1967 when city residents paid $50.49 for $1,000 assessed valuation.

No provisions were made to increase the wages of city employees except that funds for possible wage hikes could be taken from the contingency fund. Negotiations are continuing between the various agents of the city employees and the council's personnel committee.

Mayor Magnuson told his all Republican council, in a short address prior to the actual vote on the record high spending program, that New York State Medicaid program is primarily responsible for the large increase in the budget. "Something is wrong," the mayor said, "when one piece of legislation can practically bankrupt cities and townships all across New York State."

State Confirms Students Blinded During LSD Trip

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The office of Gov. Raymond P. Shafer confirmed Monday that six Pennsylvania college juniors were permanently blinded 18 months ago while staring, unblinking, at the sun after taking the drug LSD.

The statement was issued after some college officials questioned whether the incident actually had occurred.

"The incident did take place," said Jack Cooney, the governor's press secretary. "Six students did and are receiving services from the Office of the Blind."

However, he declined again to release the names of the students or the college they were attending when the incident took place.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, in a story attributed to reliable sources in Philadelphia and Harrisburg, reported Monday night that the school was Edinboro State College, serving some 4,000 students on a campus located about 15 miles south of Erie.

bonds in bond issue.

Councilman Rockwell O'Sheill inquired as to where the marker at DeFrees playground on Fourth avenue might be. Borough manager Victor L. Miller said vandals had been caught in the act of removing the marker and that Mr. DeFrees had offered to pay the costs of setting the plaque into stone in such a manner to prevent its removal. Other markers, Miller said, would also be similarly indented.

O'Sheill stated he was "appalled" to see the DeFrees marker gone. He also voiced distaste toward those who would participate in such acts of vandalism.

Council yesterday awarded a contract for storm sewer materials to Warren Concrete Products, the apparent low bidder in the amount of $8,398.20.

The borough secretary was authorized to advertise for bids for a truck and tractor for the park department to be received at council's regular meeting Feb. 12.

In a separate statement, borough manager Miller said the top applicant for the post of code enforcement officer in the borough, had declined the job. According to Miller, he will continue to seek the proper person to handle the assignment.

There were 14 members of council present at the session which adjourned in one half hour.

to actively look for a location," Dilks added.

Among those invited to discuss the problem at lunch this Thursday are representatives of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, the Warren County Commissioners, the Warren County Planning Commission, Warren Borough Council, Warren Borough Planning Commission, the Warren Borough Parking Authority, the Times-Mirror & Observer and WNAE Radio Station.

The parking authority is involved because the Oakdale Corporation has also expressed interest in building along the river front on Pennsylvania Avenue, a site already developed as a large parking lot. This location is part of Warren borough's master plan but also includes the removal of the block of stores on the avenue from Hickory to Liberty street under urban redevelopment.

"The perplexing problem of where to locate additional motel facilities in our area must be resolved soon," Dilks said.

"The vacation bureau hopes that a coordinated plan of action toward a solution can be started with this week's meeting."

Council. He is serving as supervisor of Conewango township.

In civic affairs, Kusse is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Retailers Executive Committee and a member of the board of directors of the Warren Rotary Club. He has also worked in various capacities for the United Fund, YMCA and Inter-Faith Chapel drives.

If successful in his quest for the assembly seat, Kusse has pledged that he will turn over management of his business to others and devote full time to the assembly duties.

It will be recalled that Kusse narrowly missed the nomination last summer for the seat vacated by the death of William C. Fuellhart. Considered one of the top contenders for the nomination, he was forced to withdraw when it was ruled he failed by 21 days to meet the four-year residency requirement.

Mr. and Mrs. Kusse reside at 390 Follett Run rd. with their two daughters who are seniors at Warren Area High School. They also have another daughter who is an Albion College junior and a married daughter in Michigan.

Similar Incident

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 1966 incident in which six college students were permanently blinded by the sun while under the influence of the drug LSD occurred at Edinboro State College in Western Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia Inquirer reported Monday night.

The Inquirer story, appearing in Tuesday morning editions, attributed the information to extremely reliable sources in Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Dr. Chester T. McNerney, Edinboro president, denied the charge when asked, the Inquirer said.

"To the best of our knowledge, this is not true... To the best of my knowledge we have had no drug problems here. We haven't even had a case of marijuana," the Inquirer quoted McNerney.

Dr. McNerney came to Edinboro, whose campus of some 4,000 students is located about 15 miles south of Erie, in September, 1966, several months after the blinding incident reportedly occurred.

Historical Society Invites Public to Civil War Movie

By BETTY RICE
The Warren County Historical Society on Wednesday will offer a "first," to which both members and the public are invited, at 8 p.m. in the Jefferson School auditorium.
It is a first public showing of a film depicting the effect of the Civil War on family life—a film written, directed, acted and produced by fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students at Houston Elementary School near Pittsburgh.
The movie, "A Time to Remember," with sound, was shown at the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies

Stolen Car Driver Is Apprehended

Borough police in a high speed chase early Sunday morning, apprehended a Youngsville man following a report of a stolen car.
Lt. Howard Ristau said the car was owned by Bruno J. Zaffino, of 12 Wetmorest., Warren. He called police at 3 a.m. Sunday and stated he had left his 1965 Chevy parked in front of the American Legion Home. Upon returning about a half hour later, Zaffino discovered his car was gone.
Ristau stated that Officer Dennis Schmader drove west on Fourth and checked the Penn Laurel parking lot. Leaving the area through the front drive, Schmader saw a car heading west on Pennsylvania avenue and ascertained it was the stolen car. According to Schmader, after he turned on the cruiser's siren and red light, the driver of the westbound vehicle gunned the motor and continued west at speeds up to 75 miles an hour.
Schmader radioed to Lt. Ristau and Sgt. Willard Zerbe, who were checking lots on the east side. The latter officers joined the chase and in the vicinity of Lilypond curve, pulled ahead of the stolen car and boxed the operator in.
Arrested was Wilbur E. Shannon, 49, Highland avenue, Youngsville. The defendant was released on $2,000 property bond following his appearance before Police Justice Martha Lawson.

Barbershoppers Attend Training Session in NY

Eight officers of the Warren chapter of Barbershoppers attended the training session for chapter officers held jointly by the Seneca and District and Ontario (Canada) District, Saturday and Sunday at Niagara Falls, N.Y., at Treadway Inn.
They were Dr. John Urbatis, president Warren Chapter; Wylys V. Johnson, administrative vice president; Paul Lewis, vice president for programming; Marshall Klein, treasurer; Kent Petersen, board member; Plummer Collins, Seneca District president; Harold Carlson, member, International board; and Gene Schwanke, area counsellor.
The 55 chapters in the two districts were represented by 330 officers who attended the meeting.

Classes were conducted by international office specialists from every part of the nation, including Ralph Ribble of Dallas, Texas, international treasurer of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartette Singing in America, Inc.

Wylys Johnson reports this is the second annual joint session. The first such combined affair was held last year in Niagara Falls, Canada.

Clarendon Area Man Is Cited

A Clarendon area man has been cited for driving under the influence following his apprehension at 1:45 a.m. Sunday by borough police officer Dennis Schmader.
Charged, after a doctor's examination at police headquarters, was Leo Francis Griebel, 43, RD 1, Clarendon. Officer Schmader stated he was in the police cruiser, traveling east on Pennsylvania avenue W, when he observed a westbound vehicle traveling in an odd manner. The defendant police said, proceeded to drive into the cruiser's lane of traffic.
Schmader said he turned around and followed the car as it turned onto Hickory street bridge, still in the wrong lane; turned east onto Crescent Park and struck a No Parking sign on the south curb. According to police, despite the fact the cruiser was running its red light and siren, the defendant failed to stop until reaching the Mohawk avenue intersection.
Damage was listed at $25.

The first opera at the Metropolitan Opera House was Charles Gounod's "Faust," sung in Italian on Oct. 22, 1883.

Unusual Visitors

A resident of Garland reports an invasion of that rural community by two hen pheasants. The birds present an unusual sight as they walk up and down the street, refusing to move for cars. They also check at the fire hall and appear around several homes. Another spot the hens prefer is in front of Clancy's, a popular meeting spot in the area.

Sports Show To Be Held March 30-31

Plans for the 1968 version of the Kiwanis Sport and Outdoor show were discussed in the initial meeting of the Sport Show committee of Warren Kiwanis Club, held Monday morning, in the hospitality room of the Northwest Savings and Loan Association building.

This year's show, the proceeds of which are used to support retarded children's camps, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Kiwanis toy projects, underprivileged children and other worthwhile community projects, will be held at Warren Area High School March 30 and 31.

This year the sport show will offer as a grand prize a console model color television set, along with many other door prizes contributed by local merchants.

Those on the committee, responsible for this year's show, include, George Templeton, Russ Templeton, Bob Frycklund, Cliff Terry, Bob Dilks, Wes Coombs, Jack Blair, Richard Scalise, Jim Kemp, Donald Holmes, Harry Speidel, Ed Farynowski and Bob Hammerbeck.

Commissioners May Enter Into Tax Agreement

The Warren County Commissioners plan to investigate the possibilities of entering into an agreement with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relative to U.S. Internal Revenue Service reports covering individuals' interest and dividend payments for personal property tax levy purposes.

McKean County and others are also considering such an agreement, according to reports made at last week's meeting of the Northwestern Pennsylvania County Commissioners Association in Warren.

Several county commissioners stated it was felt this could provide additional revenue for counties but urged that citizens, who should under law, file such interest and dividend, do so.

ARCHAEOLOGIST SPEAKS

Local Archaeologist Gives Slide Talk to Rotarians

Stanley Lantz, field archaeologist, Carnegie Museum, gave a slide talk at Warren Rotary Club Monday on salvage archaeology in the Upper Allegheny Valley.

His pictures and commentary outlined discoveries of civilizations and occupied villages in the area now covered by waters backed up by the Kinzua Dam, which filled in many formerly unknown pages of pre-history in this valley.

Pictures of actual excavations at various stages, and various artifacts found showed vividly the new knowledge unearthed.

The most remarkable discoveries, he said, covered the period of 900 to about 1300 A.D. Somewhat astonishing was the finding of spears, projectile points and other implements which had been brought into the Kinzua valley from as far away as Indiana, Ohio and the lower Susquehanna area. The oldest finds dated to 10,000 B.C.

Warren Area High School senior guests were Sylvia Chitester and Betsy Griffin.

Other guests included Dan Fronfelter, and James Cable, Warren County schools psychologist.

Mishap Causes $200 in Damages

According to police, Clark was not injured.

We Have Learned?

We are an educated nation. We pride ourselves on the fact that we have learned our lessons well and the good life we are presently enjoying is a direct result of our diligence. Yet the problems we are facing today seem to offer proof that we have been inattentive to the precepts of life as demonstrated throughout our natural environment.

This is especially true when applied to the most pressing of our modern problems such as the population explosion, the dissipation of our natural resources, and the pollution of the renewable resources such as land, air, and water.

For since the beginning of time nature has maintained a system of automatic checks on the populations of all species, except man. The human mind has always held that man was exempt from these natural restrictions and that through scientific processes he could escape the food shortages and spread of disease that plagued the lesser species. And that with research that would bring food from the oceans, purify sea water, and harness nuclear energy he could advance into the future with complete assurance that the good life would continue indefinitely.

Such thinking may be rational in some respects. Yet we tend to forget that these are not the only elements that will govern the limits of our population as we approach the 21st

Housewife & Unsanitary Fish

WASHINGTON—President Johnson, who has turned out to be the most vigorous consumers' champion ever to sit in the White House, is preparing another food inspection bill. This one will protect the housewife from unsanitary fish.

Despite vigorous lobbying and a reluctant House of Representatives, the Senate, with a lot of White House help, last year put across a strong meat inspection bill. However, fish is still very sloppily inspected, and the President proposes to remedy the situation.

The American people eat 11 pounds of fish per capita each year—a total of two billion pounds. Of this, 50 per cent is imported from 110 foreign countries, and is now uninspected. Some countries will permit American inspectors to look over their plants if they are sending sizable amounts of fish to the USA, but the Food and Drug Administration hasn't enough funds to do the inspecting.

It even lacks sufficient inspectors to adequately check on the 2,200 fish processing plants and canneries which operate in interstate commerce in the United States. These plants are inspected only about once a year, if that often.

In addition, there are 1,500 intrastate processing plants and canneries not subject to federal inspection. State inspection in some states is lax or nonexistent.

Meanwhile fish have presented several health hazards, which on occasion have caused death or epidemics. One was the well-known case of botulism which started from eating spoiled smoked salmon in Ohio and Michigan, and caused several deaths. Cases of hepatitis have also been traced to shellfish dredged from too near sewage outlets.

Finally, there is fish spoilage due to poor temperatures, causing salmonella or nausea. Another problem has been the use of antibiotics to remedy fish spoilage. All of this century. In the natural control of the lesser species two other factors play a highly important part — social breakdown and pollution of habitat.

These are exactly the factors which are predominantly responsible for our most pressing modern problems such as riot, poverty, and pollution. And they are the factors that are most likely to defy solution before society as a whole escapes from their viciousness. Nature has not equipped any species, including man, to cope with the mental strain of over-population or the defilement of the habitat. Problems that are being compounded daily through the development of our great megalopolis areas.

To overcome these problems with expediency is not so much a matter of controlling the birth rate as in taking steps to spread our present population over greater areas of land. It is said that 70 per cent of the population in this country lives on one per cent of the land. And the condition is bound to worsen unless legal steps are taken to turn the masses out of the cities.

As far back as 1848, John Stuart Mill may have hit the nail right on the head when he said, "A population may be too crowded, though all be amply supplied with food and raiment. It is not good for man to be kept perforce at all times in the presence of his species."

No Passport Protection

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has one of the toughest jobs in the world. Just the other day one of his aides reported to him:

"Sir, all the arrangements have been made for your trip. There will be troops all along the road from the airport into town. No advance notice is being given of your arrival. You will be traveling under the name of Mr. James Smith, a business consultant. When you arrive in town you will be whisked off to the hotel and you won't leave until the conference is over. Then we will take you by helicopter back to the airport before the local press finds out you were there."

"What country am I going to?" Rusk asked.

"No country," his aide replied. "You're going to San Francisco."

"I was afraid of that," the secretary said. "Is it going to be bad?"

"We can't tell, so we have to take precautions. You see, if you were going abroad we wouldn't have problems. If there were any demonstrations against you, we could always protest to the unfriendly nation's state department. But when they have demonstrations against you in the United States, we have no one to protest to but ourselves."

"I guess there's not much satisfaction in that," the secretary said. "Did Vice President Humphrey get back from Africa?"

"Yes, sir. It was a very successful trip. There were a few sporadic incidents in the Congo but they didn't amount to anything. We're a little worried now, though."

"Why?"

"He has to go to Chicago next week."

"Poor Hubert. He should have stayed in Africa."

"That's what we told him. But he said he'd go anywhere any time to defend the President's Vietnam policies, so it was very hard for him to refuse to go to Chicago."

"What are the latest reports from New Haven?"

"The CIA is nervous."

"Why is that?"

"Yale is talking about giving you an honorary degree."

"That's serious. How do we get out of it?"

"Well, if it goes through, we're going to ask them to mail it to you."

"But won't it look bad if the secretary of state of the United States can't go to New Haven?"

"We thought of that and we're trying to work out a trip for you to the Soviet Union or Cyprus, where you'll be safe. We figure if you go abroad at that time, nobody will wonder why you didn't go to New Haven."

"Aren't there any safe cities in the United States I can go to this year?"

"The CIA can't find any, but then you have to remember, sir, there's a war on."

"I'm aware of that," the secretary said, "but it seems to me that a cabinet officer should be free to travel in his own country."

"You would think so, sir. But you see, your American passport only protects you when you're abroad. You have no diplomatic immunity in the United States, and from all we can gather, the people in this country are not very friendly right now, particularly during an election year."

"Well, what am I going to do about this invitation to speak in New York next month?" the secretary asked.

"We've arranged for you to give the talk on the battleship New Jersey in the Hudson River. In that way if the natives start acting up we can always weigh anchor and get the heck out of there."

— In the Watts ghetto of Los Angeles, another major aerospace corporation has built a whole new factory in which dozens of unemployed slum-dwellers are now being offered training and jobs.

— In Rochester, N.Y., the Xerox Corp. is experimenting with a 19-week training course for unemployed men, many of whom have police records. The program includes classroom instruction, individual counseling, carefully supervised on-the-job training.

— Also in Rochester, Eastman Kodak has, with the assistance of a militant Negro group, drawn up plans to help individual slum dwellers set up small businesses within the slums.

— In Philadelphia, the Armstrong Cork Co. has developed new methods to rehabilitate slum buildings, at about half the cost of building new ones, now is planning to rehabilitate seven more buildings in Lancaster.

The above pinpoint specific company activities. Throughout the U.S., major corporations meanwhile are to face up to the massive problems of air and water pollution and are spending hundreds of millions of dollars this year alone in the fight.

Also throughout the country, the life insurance industry has announced plans to invest $1 billion in slum rehabilitation.

It is more than a beginning. It is a clearly identifiable trend. There was no raised eyebrow in the room when Robert J. Weston of the Boise Cascade Corp. told a recent meeting of the committee for Economic Development:

"Corporations must look toward the establishment of dual goals in service to shareholders and service to society."

Enrollment Now Open For Insurance

About 1.4 million people over 65 who missed out on signing up for the supplementary medical insurance under medicare—which helps to pay doctors' bills and other medical bills not covered under hospital insurance—will also miss out on some new benefits unless they take advantage of the period now open to enroll, provided by recent legislation.

These people will be receiving an application blank in the mail soon which will give them through April 1 to indicate whether or not they want the supplementary coverage. If they sign up by April 1, their coverage will begin July 1, 1968. The premium paid by the person who enrolls on time will be $4 a month, matched dollar for dollar by the Government—so the insurance is worth twice the amount of the premiums people pay for it.

Those who miss out on this second chance to take the supplementary protection will have to wait another year, and pay a premium that is 10 per cent higher for each full year they could have had the medical insurance, but were not enrolled. Those now enrolling, who for a year or longer had been eligible but had not signed up, will pay an additional premium of 40 cents a month above the $4. A person who is not enrolled for medical insurance may henceforth enroll during the first 3 months of any year, provided this period begins within 3 years after he had his first opportunity to enroll. People already 65 or older who do not have medical insurance may enroll through April 1, 1968; if they do not enroll by that date, they will have to wait until 1969 for another opportunity to do so.

If you are the son or daughter or guardian of an elderly parent who is a bit absent-minded or has reading difficulty, and you are not sure whether he or she is signed up for medical insurance, we suggest you check to see whether that elderly person gets the letter in January offering this opportunity to enroll. You may want to advise him or help him be sure the application for this important protection is mailed back. Remember, more than 9 out of 10 people over 65 already have it!

Sentence Laborites

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The National Court of Public Order Friday sentenced five labor leaders to four-month prison terms for attending an illegal meeting.

The five were arrested last April in Madrid during an unsanctioned meeting allegedly called to discuss a plan to organize new unions and to conduct May Day demonstrations.

Chinese Clash

HONG KONG (AP) — A month-long clash between Maoists and anti-Maoists was raging in the coal-rich Red Chinese province of Anhwei, an anti-Communist newspaper said Friday.

Peking had announced its takeover of Anhwei from the anti-Maoists, but the Chinese language newspaper Sing Tao Jih Pao said reports of fighting were carried in a Jan. 7 broadcast of the provincial Anhwei radio station.

If the Shoe Fits...

James R. Valone

Will foot health be improved by talking about it? In a way, yes, I would not say that mere talk has reduced the death rate caused by tuberculosis, but I do believe that the educational program of the Tuberculosis Association has saved many lives by uprooting the old custom of labeling tuberculars "Consumptives" and shutting them up to die.

Talk will not cure cancer either but discussing early signs of the disease will lead to many early diagnoses and cures.

I believe that this decade will be known in health education history as the most productive in foot health thinking in three hundred years because modern young parents are studying the subject and discussing what they read. Bunions, hammer toes, corns, callouses and even a large percentage of weak-foot are rooted in ignorance which cannot withstand the light of intelligent discussion.

The business meeting followed with Mrs. Hazel Shield, the chairman. Mrs. Mildred VanOrsdale, a new member, agreed to serve as co-chairman for the remainder of the year. Future projects were discussed, and the necessities of the Ruth M. Smith Home for Children in Sheffield, and the Jesse Lee Home were reviewed.

For the remainder of the evening, all members joined in making disposable pads for the Cancer Society. At the next meeting on February 5, the circle will be joined by the Rosie Ann Cobb Circle members at the church.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a woman 76 years old. Last March my daughter-in-law had a heart attack and died suddenly. There were no children. When I went out for the funeral (1200 miles) my son begged me to stay and help him get over his heartache. Ann, I have been here for 10 months. I am desperately homesick for my little apartment, my grandchildren and the life I used to lead. I do not like this climate and I work from morning till night — washing, ironing, cooking and cleaning. His day lady quit when I moved in and he has not tried to replace her. I have told my son three times that I want to go home but each time he sits down and cries like a baby and says I can't leave him. I have offered to keep house for him if he will come back West, but he says a man 55 years old can't start over. Please tell me what to do. I don't want to add to this boy's problems. Lord knows he has had enough. — LONESOME MOTHER

Dear Mother: This "boy" is 55 years old and it's time he grew up. My advice is to pack your bags and leave. Your son will get along just fine without you—perhaps better. A woman 76 years of age is entitled to spend her remaining years in her own home, not as a drafted servant for a 55-year-old crybaby.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm beginning to think that American girls are crazy and if I want to find a wife I will have to go to Japan. Here is my story: I am 34 years old, respectable, make good money, am a neat dresser, good dancer, good swimmer and bowler, have money in the bank, most of my hair and all of my teeth. The problem is that I am 5'5" and every girl I ever wanted to get serious with has ditched me for a taller guy. I have let it be known where I work that I am eager and eligible yet nobody has gone out of his way to fix me up a date. I've even written to matrimonial agencies and lonely hearts clubs. When the women answer, they want to know how tall I am. Since you're the lady with the answers, I'd like one, please. ... SHORT CIRCUITED

Dear Circ: I have no answer, but I do have a question. How come a respectable, marriage-minded male who makes good money, is a neat dresser, good dancer, bowler, swimmer, with most of his hair and all of his teeth, has to beg friends to fix him up with blind dates and writes to matrimonial agencies and lonely hearts clubs? Fellows get married every day and not all these guys are tall. The next letter will interest you since the man involved is six inches shorter than you.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the girl who is 5'11" and can't find an interesting guy who is tall enough for her. The shrimps seem to be the ones who make her feel alive mentally. I have a story that might point the girl in the right direction. Aunt Nora was a divorcee with three sons to raise. She was no beauty and nearly 5'7". Aunt Nora met a man who was 4'11". They fell in love and married. The two of them were a mighty odd-looking couple. People often turned around just to catch another glimpse of them. The whole family thought she was nuts. It's been six years since they married and I have never known a happier couple. They have the baby girl they both wanted so much and the three boys are growing up to be wonderful young men. What's more, the whole family adores "the runt" and feels Aunt Nora was lucky to get him. ... WISER NOW

Dear Wiser: Thanks for letting us know where Aunt Nora's good sense led her. People who marry for appearance's sake learn quite promptly that those they were trying to impress were not worth the trouble.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents... if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"The fish can see the net," he said. "It's the toughest thing to overcome."

Nevertheless, Crowther is confident that with increased technology Hawaii fishermen some day will be able to detect and then catch the speedy tuna.

Warren Hi Tankers Host Corry Tonight

Varsity swimming, the new team sport in the athletic program at Warren Area High School, makes its home debut tonight when the Dragon tankers host Corry High School at 8 o'clock in the YMCA pool.

Warren's "aqua-athletes" initiated their season at Oil City last week and battled down to the wire before losing a 55-40 decision to the more experienced Oilers.

Corry's swim team is 2-3 on the season, having defeated Iroquois the last time out.

The Dragons are coached by David Clifton, a science survey teacher at WAHS. He is single and resides at RD 2, Pittsfield.

Clifton attended Hershey High School, where he participated in many sports including wrestling. He was graduated in 1961 from Eastern Nazarene College, Quincy, Mass., where he competed in baseball.

Although he has not participated in team swimming, he has experience in long distance swimming.

Swimming was instituted at WAHS through the efforts of Principal Joseph Passaro and Athletic Director Joseph Massa. Since the local high school has no pool, the co-operation of the Warren YMCA was a necessary factor in adopting the sport on an interscholastic level.

Clifton was recommended for the position of head coach by YMCA officials. He credits Bob Hammerbeck, who he has praised as "a fine swimming coach," with the development of the sport in Warren and the training of numerous members of his team.

The Warren team practices at the Y pool during seventh period, 2:30-3:30 p.m., each school day and has expressed a desire for longer workouts in the future. Morning sessions are also being considered.

The team, which started practice on December 16 with about 30 students, is down to about 20 swimmers on the squad and Clifton would welcome any new members who would be interested in coming out.

Jim Hunter and Matt Voigt are co-captains of the Dragon team.

The Warren club held an 11-point advantage at intermission and scored a 42-28 margin in the second half of play.

Dragon Mat Team Faces Meadville in Key Match

"Motivation" is an important word for Warren Area High School's wrestling team when it hosts Meadville High tonight.

The Dragon's incentive to win comes in three distinct, but related areas:

1. Protecting a perfect record of six straight dual match victories.

2. Gaining revenge for defeats to the Bulldogs for two seasons in a row.

3. Staying on a collision course with Titusville to decide the Section II championship.

The latter is the clincher, for without victory tonight the most the Blue and White could hope for would be a tie with the Rockets for the conference crown.

If, however, the first two points are motivation enough, the Dragons will not have to worry about the third, and they should not, for Meadville will present the toughest test the Blue and White has faced to date.

The Bulldogs can boast of being the only team still on the schedule to hold a margin in victories over Warren since Mike Weber took over the helm.

Bulldog powerhouses, under the direction of former coach Dick Lumley, have defeated the Websters twice in three years, costing the Dragons the Section II title in both instances.

Jim LaScola, assistant to Lumley, has moved up to the top job and has inherited an excellent wrestling team. The Bulldogs have a wealth of experience, including several outstanding individual wrestlers who will be contenders for Section IV titles at season end.

Heading the list of veterans are Mike Mottillo (95-pounds), Dan Coon (103), Ron Kightlinger (112), Pat Mantini (127), Jim Hill (145) and Marty Davis (154).

Davis has the best dual meet record, 5-0, Coon is 4-0 and added a first place in the Holiday Tournament at Clearfield by edging the host team's State finalist Dan Clark.

Kightlinger has a four-win, one-draw mark, Mantini is 4-1, Hill shows a 2-1-1 slate and Mottillo is 3-2.

As a team, the Bulldogs have won three matches and lost two.

After routing Sharpsville in its opener, 47-7, Meadville was upset by a strong Conneaut Lake team, 22-19.

In conference competition, the Bulldogs suffered a 27-18 defeat to Titusville, a much closer match than the final score would indicate, then came on to edge Oil City, 20-18, and whip Franklin by a 26-14 score.

Warren will go with the same lineup that routed Rocky Grove last Friday. Co-captain Doug Sorensen remains the only Dragon with a perfect record and will be shooting for his 33rd straight dual match triumph.

Junior varsity matches start at 6:30, with varsity action slated to begin about 8 p.m. The Dragon jayvees have a 5-1 record so far this season.

Probable lineups for the varsity match are as follows:

WARREN	MEADVILLE
Albaugh 88	Day
Sequist 95	Mottillo
Williams 103	Coon
Da. Sorensen 112	Kightlinger
Jones 120	Rock
Do. Sorensen 127	Mantini
Mead 133	Longotti
Kaiser 138	Petrillo
Maines 145	Hill
Lowe 154	Davis
Thompson 165	Fera
Pussateri 180	Bennett
Bryan	Hvy Litke

SPORTS

Eagle Matmen Home, Eisenhower Travels

Eisenhower and Youngsville's wrestling teams are in action again tonight, the Knights playing the role of favorites and the Eagles rated the underdog.

Eisenhower, 4-2, travels to Silver Creek, N.Y. to meet the Black Knights, still winless in Southern Tier competition.

Youngsville, 0-4-1, hosts Wattsburg, a team with a 4-1 mark in the Erie County League. Virtually eliminated from the race to repeat as conference champion, Eisenhower still has a chance to finish ahead of the other Class B teams in the New York State loop.

The Knights have been idle since a loss to Gowanda on January 4 and are anxious to get back into action. A scheduled match with Falconer, N.Y., on Friday was called off at the last minute because of illness at the New York school, a big disappointment for the Knights.

Silver Creek is 0-4 in the league, but made a strong showing in a 32-14 loss to powerful Southwestern last week.

The Knights, just getting over an early season injury jinx, will be weakened somewhat by the absence tonight of regular 145-pounder Dave Burnett due to the flu.

Coach Don Johns has announced the following varsity lineup:

Youngsville came close to its first victory of the season against Westfield, N.Y., last Friday, but had to forfeit the last two weights and settled for a 31-31 tie.

Coach Bob Lindsey would probably be satisfied with the same results against Wattsburg, who is coming off a 29-23 upset victory over Harbor Creek last Friday.

The Bobcats' only league loss was to General McLane, 30-21, early in the season and their win column includes a 28-20 triumph over North East.

The Eagles will be forced to forfeit the 180-pound and heavyweight classes again tonight, but 180-pounder Ted Taydus is expected to be back for Friday's match at Townville.

Youngsville's varsity lineup will be:

Varsity matches start at 8 p.m., with junior varsity bouts at 6:30.

Warren Boosters

Meet Tomorrow

The Warren Sports Boosters will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at WAHS. Coaches Mike Weber and Joe Shantz will be present to comment on their respective seasons and refreshments will be served. The club's board of directors will meet following the general meeting.

Alcindor's Eye Injury Now Rated Serious

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The injury to the left eye of UCLA basketball star Lew Alcindor is more serious than at first believed and there's a possibility he may miss next weekend's game with Houston which pits the nation's two top teams.

UCLA said Monday the 7-foot, 1½-inch center is suffering "extreme pain" and impaired vision and has entered the Jules Stein Eye Institute on the campus for tests and observation.

"Naturally we hope he's ready," said the team's coach, John Wooden, "but if he's handicapped at all, and not at his best, he won't play."

Irvinedale Grade School defeated Home Street in the Gra-Y Basketball League yesterday by a 23-18 score.

Steve Collins sparked Irvinedale, 3-4, to victory with 12 points. Dave Walters scored six, Danny Dangelo had four and Tim Sikowski one.

Tom Kottraba tallied 12 points for Home Street, Robble Simonsen had four and Jack Martin added two.

BASKETBALL PREVIEW:

League Contests Slated For Four County Squads

Four of the five county teams will be making a bid for league victories tonight as the cage season reaches the half-way mark.

Warren will travel to Meadville in an effort to move its Section II record to .500, while Youngsville journeys to Pleasantville in UAVL action carrying a 1-1 league slate. Other county contests find Sheffield at Johnsonburg with a 0-1 reading in the AML loop and Tidoute hosting West Forest with a 1-2 UAVL rating.

Taking a night off from league action will be the Eisenhower Knights, rolling out the carpet for Mayville, New York.

The Dragons will be making a strong effort to continue to play the style of ball that they displayed last Friday in defeating previously unbeaten Rocky Grove, 70-59. Meadville lost a close section II contest to Franklin Friday, 65-64, as the Franklin squad played catch-up ball in the final period.

The Bulldogs carry a 1-2 Section record, and a 3-6 overall slate. Meadville's other section loss was a 47-46 tilt with Oil City. Leading scorers for the Bulldogs are letterman Stan Zadrozny and junior Dennis Cholak. Zadrozny is the big man on the Bulldog squad, standing 6-6½, while Cholak is next at 6-3½.

Other probable starters for the Bulldog five will be seniors Fred Burnett, Jack Davies, and Tom Griffin. Griffin is the smallest at 5-7½ and is the only other returning letterman for the Red and Black.

The Dragons will be relying on the starting five and so aptly pulled the second half comeback last Friday. With the victory spark still in their eyes, Dan and Ed O'Neil will be called upon as the Blue and White sure-shots. Dan carries a 12-6 average while Ed trails his senior brother with a 11-5 shooting record. Two Shantzen that can only be labeled "all around" are Dave Cobb and Dan Krumm.

Both boys played a superb game Friday and have been named to make the tipoff this evening. The fifth position will be a tossup between Randy Jones and Mike Hackett as Coach Shantz looks for someone to clear the boards for the Blue and White.

With everything ticking, the Dragons could pull off their second Section victory by keeping the Bulldogs under control.

Seek League Win
Sheffield will be trying to pickup its first victory in the AML loop despite the fact that they now carry a 9-1 overall slate. The only league contender they have met is Brockway, where they tasted their only defeat of the season in a 62-56 battle.

The Rams carry a 6-5 record and have captured three victories in the league. Rick Polinski is the leading scorer for the Rams, averaging 12 points a game. Other starters for

AAU Makes Threat of Olympic Ban
NEW YORK (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union said Monday that any athlete competing in a U.S. Track and Field Federation meet here Feb. 9 could lose his eligibility for the Olympic Games.

The announcement took on added significance when, moments later, a federation spokesman said that Jim Ryun, world mile record holder; Gerry Lindgren, long distance champion; and Bob Seagren, indoor pole vault record holder, would be in the meet.

Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said at a press conference that if any noncollegiate athletes took part in the meet, which is being billed as the Madison Square Garden Invitational, all athletes in the meet would lose Olympic eligibility.

At present, three athletes without collegiate eligibility are scheduled to compete in the meet. They are Tommie Smith and Charlie Green, world record holding sprinters, and Wade Bell, AAU half-mile champion.

All three are still in college, but have used up their varsity eligibility. The AAU maintains it must sanction all meets in which noncollegiate athletes appear.

Thus, even collegians would be affected if they competed with noncollegians in an unsanctioned meet.

The federation, an arm of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, has repeatedly refused to ask the AAU to sanction its meets and a spokesman said Monday it will absolutely not ask this time.

Col. Hull said the AAU would report the names of the athletes to the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which controls international track and field. Hull said the IAAF would then revoke the athletes' eligibility to compete in international events.

Johnsonburg will be Dave Cherry, Frank Chirillo, Bert Kilhoffer, and Dan Thorwart. In comparison, the Rams posted a win over Bradford CC, 84-55, and the Wolverines downed Bradford CC, 115-57.

Coach Nick Creola will again call upon Wayne Swanson to lead his starting five. Swanson is second in county scoring with a 24.8 average. Also slated for the tipoff will be Robbie Hart, Jeff Scallise, Mark McGuire, and Rick Grubbs.

Holtz Leads Falcons
Youngsville won't find an easy battle with the Pleasantville cagers. The Falcons boast a big starting lineup headed by 6-8 Greg Holtz. Holtz is a familiar face on area hardwoods as the Falcons have met Sheffield and Eisenhower and in both contests Holtz was the leading scorer. With a cager that big, the Falcons don't have much trouble in controlling the boards. Also standing in the six-foot category for the Falcons are Greg Reynolds at 6-3 and Skip Anthony, 6-1.

Sheffield had little trouble with the Pleasantville squad as they dumped the Falcons, 97-65. Eisenhower managed a 65-62 victory.

The Eagle lineup will be centered around George Nelson, 6-0, the biggest Red and White cager. Nelson has been maintaining control of the boards for the Eagles. Denny Walton and Gary Wood will make the starting five as they boast a 29.1 average between them. Tom Burleigh is the only other cager to get the starting nod as Coach Paul Siegel was reluctant to name Jack Maze or Dick Address to the fifth spot.

After Number Two
Tidoute will be putting its sole victory on the line against the Indians, who carry a 0-2 record in the UAVL and hold only one victory in pre-league play against North Clarion, 73-71. The Indians met a crushing defeat Friday as Pleasantville trounced them, 98-73. Mike Vermillion is the leading scorer for West Forest with a 15.6 average per game. Vermillion hit the 28-point mark in the Indian victory and against Jamestown, Pa., he netted 27. The only other highlighter for the Indians is Randy Bush, who carries a 12-point average.

The Bulldogs will be pressing Ed Ziegler, Mark Rondinelli, Ron Carr, Max Anderson, and Jack Shields into service for the tipoff. Substitutes will be Ed Klag and Scott McKay.

A victory for the Bulldogs would place them at the .500 mark in UAVL action with a 2-2 slate.

Star Still Out
Eisenhower will again be lacking 6-7 Bob Burlingame, but this didn't seem to hinder the squad too much last week as they played to a close tilt with East Forest, 63-61. Greg Johnson was high scorer in Friday's game, scoring 22 points for the Knights. Johnson is slated to make the starting whistle along with Jeff Lindell, Tim Allen, Alan Swanson and Bob Russell.

Mayville boasts an unblemished record of five victories. Its closest contest of the season was against Clymer when they played into double overtime and came out on top of a 63-62 margin. A little on the brighter side, the Knights dumped Clymer 65-42, but with the help of Burlingame's 29 points. The Eagles have been idle for a week, but finished off Ripley before taking their rest. Mayville has no outstanding players, but boasts five cagers who can maneuver the ball to the basket.

A victory for the Knights would not only move their record to 4-5, but would give them the best they need to be a power in the UAVL.

Came times for all cage contests will be 8:00 varsity and approximately 6:15 for the jayvee tilts.

TALKS ABOUT NEXT SEASON'S PACKERS

Virce Denies He's Made Decision

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Vince Lombardi played in the sun at poolside Monday and insisted once again probably would be a month before he made up his mind whether to continue coaching the Green Bay Packers.

Although there are persistent reports that he will spin off the coaching chores, possibly to Phil Bengtson, his veteran defensive coach, and concentrate on his job as general manager, Lombardi denied he had made a decision.

"I really don't know," he said. "I am being very truthful with you. In a month's time, I should be able to say something. I have no offers, football or business-wise. Green Bay is my job. I really have to sit down for some serious self conversation and give Vince Lombardi a good hard look. I am going to be in Green Bay."

The Packers scaled the heights this season, winning an unprecedented third straight National Football League title and dumping the Oakland Raiders 33-14 in Sunday's Super Bowl game at the Orange Bowl.

Speaking of the game and the Packers' future, Lombardi sounded like a man who wouldn't know what to do with himself if he were not coaching.

"We have to make some decisions on some people," said Lombardi. "Talent isn't all. You have to be able to play under pressure. We have some men who do an excellent job all year but don't do it under pressure in the big games."

Lombardi did not elaborate. He glowed when he spoke of the possibility of a three-back offense next year with Donny Anderson, Jim Grabowski and Travis Williams.

"In all due respect to Chuck Mercein and Ben Wilson," he said, "neither one is the type of Green Bay fullback we are accustomed to. We've changed our attack a great deal. Regardless of what people have said, we never were a real power team in the past. This year we were. You saw it yesterday."

"When we had Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, Taylor never led Hornung. This year our halfbacks could run to daylight but not our fullbacks, although they did a great job for what they are. Grabowski has the quickness and speed of a halfback, something Taylor never had. You can't tell, we might even go to some type of the old tight formation with three big backs or put Anderson out as flanker."

As for the Oakland game, Lombardi praised the Raiders' defensive unit. "Their linebackers are a little small," he said, "but that Dan Connors is a fine player. It is a well coached football team."

"We made mistakes. So did they. On the Boyd Dowler touchdown, they had two men on Travis Williams and left Dowler open. I am not sure who was to blame on their two touchdowns passes to Bill Miller until I look at the films."

DRAFT LIST

Checked By Bengls

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Paul Brown and members of his Cincinnati coaching staff huddled Monday over player lists submitted by eight other American Football League clubs to stock the new Bengals who begin playing next season.

Brown was to pick free players from each club into two draft rounds Monday with two more players from each team being added Tuesday.

Miami, an expensive team two years ago, is the on AFL club not supplying players to the Bengals. The other eight teams will each give up five players to stock Cincinnati. The first four will be draft choices and the fifth a designated player chosen by the team giving him up.

Each team is fixing 29 men on its 40-man roster with Cincinnati making its selection from lists of 11 exposed players supplied by AFL resident Milt Woodard.

Tuesday's TV Highlights

JACK AND THE BEANSTALK is an NBC special at 8 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6, and 12. The cartoon animation and live action musical stars Gene Kelly as a traveling peddler and his young friend Jack (Bobby Riha) who climb a cloud-piercing beanstalk that leads to the domain of a frightful giant.

IT TAKES A THIEF at 8:30 p.m. on Ch. 7 stars Robert Wagner as Alexander Mundy, a debonaire master thief paroled from prison to exercise his talents exclusively for the SIA, a U.S. intelligence agency. In "It Takes One to Know One," he is assigned to prevent foreign agents from stealing the crown jewels of Montefiore. Also in cast are guest stars Mark Richman, Susan St. James and Alfred Ryder.

TUESDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES at 9 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 screens "The Truth About Spring," starring Hayley Mills, John Mills, James MacArthur, Lionel Jeffries and David Tomlinson. Non-conformist Tommy Tyler invites a young lawyer to vacation aboard his dilapidated Caribbean fishing boat, hoping the fellow will provide the youthful companion-ship he realizes his daughter needs.

NATIONAL SMOKING TEST is televised at 10 p.m. on Chs. 4, 35, and 10. Television viewers are led through an hour of probing to find out how much they know about cigarettes and why people, including themselves, smoke. The program will be divided into three segments: 1. How you feel about smoking; 2. What you know about smoking; and 3. Smoker's profile-why you smoke.

Opening lead Queen of ♠ North and South were destined to suffer a setback when this hand was dealt at the Fall National tournament recently held in New Orleans. A contract of four hearts was reached at virtually every table and the opening lead selected by West was the queen of diamonds.

Declarer usually ducked the first round but then won the continuation with North's ace and cashed the ace and king of hearts. Both opponents followed suit however the queen remained outstanding.

The only legitimate chance left was to ruff the spades and hope that the hand with the queen of hearts had at least three spades so that declarer would have an opportunity to discard a losing diamond before the defense could get in to cash out.

As it developed however East ruffed the third round of spades and cashed the king of diamonds to complete a look for his side and the defense subsequently scored a club trick to defeat the contract.

The four heart contract was fulfilled at one table, where the declarer uncovered a clever bit of deception to sneak home with his discard despite the unfavorable lie in spades. After cashing the ace of spades, he then led the three from his hand to dummy's king, and returned the jack thru East in the manner of one who was taking a ruffing finesse for the queen.

To East it appeared that the declarer's original holding in spades was the ace-three doubleton in which case it would cost a trick to ruff in for South would obtain a free discard East discarded a club and to his surprise declarer won the trick with the queen. The latter crossed over to the ace of clubs and led the ten of spades. Altho East ruffed in this time it was too late for South disposed of his remaining diamond.

One other resourceful declarer came up with the same deceptive play in spades however, he was frustrated by an alert bit of defense. When the ace of spades was cashed West followed with the five. When the three was led next West completed his echo by playing the four.

The high-low, in following to a suit led by declarer is a standard defensive signal to give partner a count. It shows an even number of cards—in this case two or four. When the jack was led from dummy then East knew that declarer was not out of spades for that would give his partner five. He therefore ruffed the third spade with the queen of hearts and was thereby able to cash the vital diamond trick and assure his opponent's defeat.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, for Tuesday, Jan. 16, 1968.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Stress fair judgments, equality and good humor on this day of mixed planetary influences. Meet with those who have something worthwhile to discuss.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Even though things may not go exactly as you wish, don't fret or indulge in self-pity. Do the best you can—no one can ask for more.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—In expressing opinions and trying to put over new ideas, use discretion and tact. You could arouse antagonism if too forceful or aggressive.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Overlook petty annoyances. There's too much of real importance to waste time on trivialities, non-essentials. Do not let good opportunities get away from you.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—If you have been working unusually hard, some gains may be forthcoming now. Otherwise this will be just an average day—one calling for your best, nevertheless.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—You may encounter a few baffling situations: Remain undisturbed, neither over-anxious nor careless. Avoid excesses and extremes.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—In a race for position, prestige, anything—even everyday routine—be careful to avoid antagonism, mistrust. You have a chance to achieve a great deal now.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—Excellent opportunities indicated, but they are not on the surface. You may have to seek them out for yourself. It may require some extra will power to keep from being inveigled into certain situations—but you have it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 24 to December 21)—There is more substance and potential to this day than may be seen at first. Yet it demands patience, avoidance of hasty decisions and well-regulated activity.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Consider all propositions offered, but do not be inveigled into anything that's not YOUR cup of tea. Fine Saturn influences stimulate your well developed faculties, your sense of proportion, healthy perseverance.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—People with whom you deal will not all feel up to par; some are working under strain. Offer a helpful word; it will help. Expend efforts effectively.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—There may be some problem areas in teaching, instructing and research, but matters can be worked out if you are calm and meticulous. New advantages if you search.

YOU BORN TODAY are active mentally and physically; are extremely versatile and endowed with a subtle sense of humor and a brilliant wit. Drive, get-up and continuous incentive are also characteristic highlights. Many outstanding organizers, promoters, musicians, and writers have been Capricornians. Birthdate of: Richard Savage, English poet, dramatist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

CARDIOLOGY—AN OLD SCIENCE
Knowledge of cardiology was found in ancient Egyptian writings. Sometime between 3000 and 2500 B.C., scientists knew that the heart was the center of a system of distributing blood and that the pulse was associated with the heart beat. Additional information about the organ was delayed because there were many misconceptions to disprove and facts to obtain.

One of the most unusual historical facts about cardiology is that the most common type of heart disease was not discovered until 1912 by the Chicago physician, John B. Herrick. We refer to the ordinary heart attack (coronary thrombosis) which is also the leading cause of death. We do not know how it escaped detection during the preceding centuries. While coronary thrombosis existed prior to that time, its symptoms were thought to stem from the stomach (acute indigestion) rather than the heart. We have Dr. Herrick to thank for changing our concepts.

There are many reasons why these attacks have increased one thousandfold in the last 50 years. People are living to an age at which coronary arteries are likely to become arteriosclerotic. In addition, new diagnostic techniques enable our physicians to detect mild and atypical forms. Some cases are missed because they do not produce the usual manifestations (silent coronary).

Since Herrick's discovery, the electrocardiogram was invented and many remedies were introduced. Treatment for those with coronary thrombosis is highly specialized. Many of the victims are now put into coronary care units where the action of the heart is followed with delicate electronic devices.

The prevention of heart attacks soon will become a reality. It involves the avoidance of high risk factors, inadequate sleep, too little exercise, obesity, diabetes, hypertension and sustained stress. Heredity also enters the picture but there is nothing we can do about this facet of prevention because it is impossible to get a new set of grandparents.

TOMORROW: The Soft Life.
Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

INFANTILE ECZEMA
Mrs. K. writes: I am the distracted mother of a young child with eczema. She is under the care of a physician but I am trying to find out as much as possible about the condition. Can you advise me?

REPLY
The clue may be the word distracted. Our leaflet on infantile eczema covers the subject briefly. It can be obtained by sending a stamped, self addressed envelope with request.

VISION AFTER SURGERY
C. B. writes: Can a person drive a car after a successful cataract operation?

REPLY
Yes, but the decision should come from the eye surgeon, because you neglected to mention the condition of your other eye. Front vision usually is excellent after surgery, but side vision may be slightly impaired.

ELECTRIC SHOCK
Mrs. N.J. writes: A woman in her early pregnancy touched an electric light switch with wet hands. A shock went thru her entire body. Do you think the baby will be deformed because of this?

REPLY
No.

Con Con Asked to Investigate Ex-officio Members' Absences

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Western Pennsylvania delegate asked the Constitutional Convention Monday to investigate why many of the 13 ex officio legislative leaders have failed to attend more than one session.

The delegate, Charles P. Henderson of Beaver County, said the legislative leaders have ignored a convention rule that requires any delegate to request a leave of absence if he cannot attend a session.

"I am at a loss to see why the elected delegates must petition for leaves of absence," Henderson said, "while some legislators attend at will, and, in some instances, have not attended any of the sessions — with the exception of the first session."

Moreover, Henderson said many legislative leaders have not attended any of the subcommittee or standing committee meetings.

"No matter what their legislative status, by the will of the people they are delegates from Dec. 1 on and fall under the rules of the convention," Henderson said.

Henderson said the legislative delegates should take part in the day-to-day convention work, not wait until the last few days to put in an appearance.

"What I am afraid of," he said, "is that we will see them when the voting gets rough on proposals. They should be here now and sweat out with the rest of us the preliminary work in preparing such recommendations to the people."

Many delegates share this critical opinion, Henderson said. "A lot of them feel the same way I do on this," he said, "but they are afraid to open up for political reasons. I have no such fears."

Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, convention president and an ex officio delegate, said Henderson's proposal that the matter be investigated would be turned over to the convention's Rules Committee.

"I think this is something that deserves looking into," Broderick said. "Delegate Henderson is absolutely correct, it makes no difference if a delegate is elected or ex officio. We are all delegates."

Pointing out that he has attended every session — Monday was the convention's 24th — Broderick said he would urge all delegates to attend all sessions.

Of the 13 ex officio delegates, only four attended Monday's session. They were Broderick; House Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia; House Minority Whip K. Leroy Ivis, D-Pittsburgh; and Senate President Pro Tem Robert D. Fleming, R-Allegheny.

To date, only one ex officio delegate, Senate Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, has requested a leave of absence.

There were 118 of the 150 elected delegates present for Monday's session.

Earlier, convention delegates voted, 103-19, to uphold Broderick's ruling that a proposal submitted by delegate Ralph E. Orbin Sr. of Westmoreland County was outside the convention's limited scope.

Orbin's proposal would have barred the use of state funds for any program entailing racial or religious discrimination or in health programs that discriminate "against licensed practitioners of the healing arts."

In appealing Broderick's ruling, Orbin contended that the convention's mandate to consider the constitutional article on taxation and state finance was broad enough to encompass his proposal.

"If any proposal can be accepted under a broad interpretation of the mandate, it should be accepted," Orbin said. "Accepting a proposal for consideration does not mean final adoption. Delegates should have the final say."

Frame Would Increase False Alarm Penalties

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau) HARRISBURG — Legislation sponsored by State Senator Richard C. Frame of Franklin, representing Warren County, would increase penalties for turning in a false alarm of fire.

The type of this crime would be changed from misdemeanor to that of felony under the Frame legislation.

It was provided that any person convicted of violating the measure, should be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $1,000, increased from $500,00 stipulated in existing law or be imprisoned for not more than five years, replacing the existing sentence of two years.

It was also provided that either or both of these sentences could be imposed. The Frame legislation specified that it would apply to "Whoever knowingly gives, turns in, or raises or causes to be given or raised or turned in a false alarm of fire by ringing fire-bells or gives any other common or recognized alarm of fire."
